Embarking on Geographical Frontiers: Kabita Ghimire's Journey from IIFM Alumna to Smithsonian Geographer

Kabita Ghimire (PFM 1999-01), a distinguished alumna of IIFM, embarks on an exciting professional endeavor as a GEOGRAPHER at the esteemed SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION. Renowned worldwide as a premier museum, education, and research hub, the Smithsonian's acclaim stems from its profound cultural and educational impact. Kabita's journey symbolizes unwavering dedication and profound expertise in the expansive domains of geographical exploration and ecological comprehension, a testament to her commitment to advancing knowledge in these realms. Her role at the Smithsonian Institution not only signifies a personal triumph but also stands as an inspiration for aspiring geographers, exemplifying the fusion of academic excellence and real-world application in understanding our planet's intricate landscapes and ecosystems.

Pollution Crisis: Reena Gupta and Dr. Abhishek Kar Illuminate Urgent Political Action on NDTV

Reena Gupta, PFM '99, and Dr. Abhishek Kar, PFM '07, shared the spotlight on NDTV, addressing the pressing issue of "Murder of Health - No political will to fight pollution?" Their insightful discussion shed light on the dire need for stronger political action against pollution, highlighting the critical impact on public health. Their expertise offered a compelling narrative on the urgent necessity for proactive measures in combating environmental challenges.

Colombian Carbon Forestry Project Launched by Iora Ecological Solutions and Codrin Group

On December 3, 2023, Iora Ecological Solutions, founded by our own Alumnus Swapan Mehra (PFM 2004-06) and Codrin Group announced the launch of a new carbon forestry project in Colombia. The project, which will cover 100,000 hectares of land, is expected to sequester millions of tons of carbon dioxide over its lifetime.

The project was launched with an event graced by Colombian Senator Miguel Uribe Turbay.

Iora Ecological Solutions, a social enterprise, supports forest conservation in developing nations, providing technical and financial assistance for sustainable forest management. Teaming up with Codrin Group, specializing in sustainable agriculture, they lead a crucial carbon forestry initiative in Colombia. This joint endeavor promises to combat climate change, prioritizing collaboration with local communities for success.

Climate Change's Health Toll: India's Imperative for Urgent Action

Pranay Lal (PFM 1992-94), Senior Advisor, Health Systems Transformation Platform has co-written an article on recognising the impact of climate change on health in 'The Hindu'. The article emphasizes India's vulnerability to climate change's health impact, citing direct illness and fatalities alongside indirect effects on nutrition, work hours, and mental health. Rising temperatures and extreme events like heat waves and floods exacerbate disease burdens, affecting both communicable and non-communicable illnesses. Urbanization worsens issues due to the urban heat island effect. To tackle this, better health data collection, socio-economic support, and proactive measures like urban planning, green spaces, and public health interventions are crucial. Urgent action at global, regional, and local levels is needed, demanding recognition, policy initiatives, and decisive action from governments, researchers, and policymakers for meaningful change regarding climate change's health consequences.

Appeal to Alumni for facilitating Placements

December, 2023

Dear Alumnus,

It's nearing that time for all courses at IIFM, when all the learning, experiences, exposure, and the joie de vivre over the period of the respective courses must come together and fructify into good jobs.

The Institute and the students are working on this but as alumni, we need to do our bit as well.

The AA urges all of you to explore and convert the possibilities in your respective organizations of offering the best possible job profiles for students finishing any of the courses in 2024 - PGDFM, PGDSM, FPM.

For the batch of 2023, several alumni had recruited for their organisations.

Let us exceed that this time!

FRIENDS OF IIFM

Anurag Behar, CEO of Azim Premji Foundation, delivered a thought-provoking lecture at the Friend of IIFM event on November 6, 2023. Behar's extensive background includes leadership roles in Wipro and contributions to various boards and councils. He highlighted the intricate balance CSOs/NGOs maintain within politics, ideology, and ethics, emphasizing their need to swiftly adapt to evolving realities. Behar underscored the intensifying pace of change ahead, posing greater challenges for these organizations. He questioned whether organizations engaged in service delivery, like CSOs, can ethically disregard broader societal issues such as gender, caste, or communal disparities.

One significant hurdle discussed was the struggle faced by foundations like Azim Premji Foundation in deploying skilled personnel to rural areas due to deficient infrastructure. Behar identified crucial skills sought in development organizations—critical thinking, social empathy, emotional resilience, and ethical conduct—and acknowledged the rarity of finding these skills pre-hire. He emphasized the post-recruitment nurturing of these attributes. Behar highlighted the career progression of individuals acquiring these skills, eventually taking on higher responsibilities within the organization. Anurag Behar's discourse shed light on the complex landscape within which CSOs function, outlining the necessity for a skilled workforce equipped to navigate multifaceted challenges in the evolving socio-political realm.
